"I'm no expert, but I can finally make it down a Black Diamond slope. Confidence and agility are key.

"Confidence and  agility are also key to my relationship with General Star. Confidence in their financial strength is a given, but it's their agility that matters most to me; it gets us around the occasional obstacle in creating optimal solutions for my clients.

"Whether I'm struggling to stay upright on a tough slope, or managing an unusual risk, I remind myself to stay agile. With General Star behind me that's guaranteed."
