“My sons are my business partners, and when Hurricane Katrina hit, the strength of our bond helped us cope with the disaster.

“It was the financial strength of General Star that helped our business survive. They were by our side when we needed them most, settling claims quickly; even setting up a temporary office in New Orleans.

“With an A++ A.M. Best rating and Berkshire Hathaway behind them, there’s no stronger or more secure E&S market out there. Like family, we’ve been through a lot together. And to me, family matters most.”
